

PACIFIC NORTHWEST MENNONITE HISTORICAL SOCIETY

The PNMHS was organized as the Oregon Mennonite Historical and Genealogical Society (OMHGS) in 1988 by interested persons including Hope Lind, Margaret Shetler, Marjorie Nofziger, Perry Schrock and John Fretz. Our one room archives/library was located at Western Mennonite School for more than two decades. Our new facility, the Ivan and Pearl Kropf Heritage Center, was dedicated on April 22, 2012, and is located on the Zion Mennonite Church campus. It serves us well and our collection continues to grow.

Our goals are to:

- collect, sort and organize records, documents and writings of Mennonite groups in the region
- aid historians, authors, and genealogists engaged in research and writing of church or congregational histories, genealogies, family histories, and other topics
- stimulate interest in our Anabaptist/Mennonite heritage
- assist congregations, institutions and other groups in special celebrations and anniversaries

PNMHS is also the official repository for PNM records. The archives has personal collections, consisting of correspondence, family information, photographs, etc. Congregational collections include church bulletins, histories, records of congregational business, memberships, etc. The conference collections include records of annual meetings, minutes and records of any and hopefully all business and activities.

Public meetings are twice a year, in spring and fall, open to everyone, and feature speakers on varied facets of Mennonite history. Genealogical workshops are held occasionally. A twice-yearly newsletter, Our Heritage, comes with membership. In addition to the archives we have a library containing 2,650 books, with table space for research. Library materials with the exception of genealogies may be checked out.

A board of directors is elected by the membership at annual meetings. Financing comes from membership dues, contributions, and fundraisers. We appreciate your support.
